LIGHTHOUSE CONGREGATION

As I write this, I'm still recovering from a day spent interviewing candidates for ministry in The United Methodist Church. As a member of the Board of Ordained Ministry, it's my duty to ask the tough questions, ensuring that they have a strong Wesleyan understanding of theology, and to encourage the candidates in the call that the Holy Spirit has placed upon them. It is an important time of discernment where we identify whether these folks before us are ready for ministry. That, on its own, makes for a busy and demanding day. But there was no way to ignore an extra bit of heaviness that lingered over the rooms we gathered in. So many of our candidates were broken by the disaffiliation conversations that were happening at their churches. They remained faithful to those churches despite harsh words. They remained faithful to The United Methodist Church, whose mission they felt called to. But, sadly, those churches, caught up in misinformation from The Global Methodist Church and fear, were not faithful to them. And yet, though tears were shed and hearts broken, these candidates continued to stand strong in the call they knew the Holy Spirit had placed within their hearts.

This shadow of disaffiliation has loomed over all our churches to various degrees these past couple of years. After the called Annual Conference in November of last year, I have encountered so much brokenness. Aside from a handful of examples, those congregations that moved to have a vote on disaffiliation have been torn in two, whether they voted to stay or to leave. I've heard stories of family members refusing to talk to each other and dear friends that refuse to worship with each other after lines were drawn in the sand and opinions tallied. The overall church is usually left wounded as members leave based on the decision. And some of those churches who have left are still waiting on pastors from the GMC, leaderless and without direction or knowing what's next.

It should be of no surprise, then, that after some churches chose to disaffiliate from The United Methodist Church, a great number of people refused to leave with them. The number continues to grow every day and is somewhere between 600 and 700 folks. They are scarred by what has happened during the process of their church leaving. Some are wary of joining another United Methodist Church, afraid they might have those conversations all over again. And so they have transferred their membership to the NC Conference of The United Methodist Church, remaining a part of the denomination they believe in, but still searching for a place to land at a local church.

It was for these people that our conference created The United Methodist Collective of North Carolina. Rev. Laura Wittman heads up the ministry and leads four pastors called Collective Chaplains who connect with the remnant that feels displaced. They provide pastoral care, visit, administer the sacraments, and sometimes connect them to local churches. Alongside this, the conference has shared the opportunity for United Methodist Churches to become Lighthouse Congregations. Rev. Laura shared this opportunity with us at our last Church Council meeting and we were so enthused about it that we voted to become one.

What is a Lighthouse Congregation? Let me start off with what it is not. The arguments swirling around disaffiliation all center on our brothers and sisters who identify as LGBT and whether our churches should be fully inclusive or not, especially when it comes to the areas of marriage and ordination. Lighthouse Congregations have nothing to do with this ongoing debate, and becoming one does not mean we are taking a stance one way or the other on this issue. What becoming a Lighthouse Congregation does mean is that we recognize the hurt of those displaced by their disaffiliating churches and we want to be a beacon of hope to them. We are saying that we will be intentional in our hospitality, welcoming them if they join us for worship and working to connect them with our members. We'll be intentional with offering worship opportunities, both in person and online, and offering fellowship around the Communion table. When it comes to our many ministry opportunities, we'll be intentional about advertising opportunities to join us. Finally, we will be intentional about meeting with these folks in the communities around us, like a gathering at the local coffee shop. And to ensure that they feel like this is a safe place for them worship and connect, becoming a Lighthouse Congregation means that we will remain a United Methodist Church, that this is a place where they don't have to fear encountering the painful conversations around disaffiliation.

I am proud that our council made the decision to become a Lighthouse Congregation. I am excited that when people are looking for a church to settle down in the conference will recommend us as a place to connect. I, also, cannot wait to see the ways that the wonderful love of this congregation reaches out to heal the deep hurt of the folks around us. As our church has become a Lighthouse Congregation, perhaps the question to ask ourselves is how we, too, will be a beacon of God's love to all God's people.

Prayer Shawl/Blanket Ministry Ladies,

I have always heard prayers come in different volumes, shapes and possible sizes. I know Bill's blanket with all your prayers pulled him through several tough times the past few weeks. Your kindness in remembering him is truly appreciated and just want you to know he still sleeps with his blanket every night. Thank all of you from the bottom of our hearts.

Love and hugs,
Rachel & Bill Dix

It is not often that a project touches as many hearts as our Souper Bowl of Caring. This project was dear to the hearts of the Batts' Family as their focus on missions began in the Soup Kitchen located in the basement of the Good Shepherd Church many years ago. Dad often took us to help serve and spend the night. We saw it appropriate to honor his mission service with our donation to purchase a shopping cart.

The opportunities for increasing The Outreach growth by our church created a wonderful memory for our family. We certainly encourage continuing support for the United Community Ministries.

In appreciation,
John David & Michael Batts & families

Women of The Way Circle

The Women of the Way Circle met February 21st in the Aldersgate Classroom. Sharon Roth gave the devotion "Jesus Knows More about Your Job than You Do". The context taken from Luke 5:1-11 tells us to respond like Peter when we hear our Lord's voice telling us how to do "our jobs". The speaker today was Eddie Thomas, coordinator for Community Christian Service. This volunteer organization, comprised of Christian men from various churches, is devoted to preparing and installing ramps for handicapped individuals to help them with ease of access to/from their homes. In 2022, they installed 57 ramps and repurposed 10. All this is done at no cost to the individual, but donations are accepted.

An update was given on those circle members who have incurred medical issues.

The circle continues to support Faith Christian Ministries with food products and The Lighthouse with paper products. Terrie Buckner reported that there will be dishcloth bunnies for sale at the Lydia's Circle Tea. She asked that any member who has time to stay after the meeting and help her make dishcloth bunnies. A discussion ensued on what to charge for the dishcloths and it was decided to charge $3.

The UMM gave $4,000 to support Backpack Buddies and we will continue to pack on the first Wednesday and third Tuesday of each month. A discussion was held on hosting a Spring Dinner for the ladies of The Lighthouse. Embra Pullen, once again, volunteered to chair this event. The dinner will be held at 5:00 p.m. on March 28th in the Fellowship Hall.

This circle meets monthly on the third Tuesday at 10:00 a.m. in the Aldersgate Classroom. All women of the church are invited to join us.

ENGLEWOOD UNITED METHODIST MEN

The Englewood United Methodist Men will meet on Tuesday, March 14th at 6:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. Our speaker is Ken Hunter who will speak on the condition of the local economy.

I hope you will come and join us. We will have a great meal very reasonably priced at $5.00 (free for first time visitors). We serve dinner at 6:00 p.m., receive a brief devotion, and then hear from our speaker. Please mark your calendar.

Peter Varney

FAITH CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES

OF NASH COUNTY - FEBRUARY NEEDS

Thank you for continuing to support this mission project by donating food to feed the hungry in Nash County. We are sending 1 to 1½ Love Cans of food to Faith Christian Ministries each month. Won't you please consider adding more food to our donation boxes? This agency supports all of Nash County, not just Nashville.

Starting Sunday, March 5th, the "Meals of the Month" donation will be Tuna and Tuna Helper. There is a Love Can located in the area beneath the name tags in the church lobby, labeled "FCM MEALS OF THE MONTH". Please donate these items to help stock their pantry throughout the month of March. This is another wonderful opportunity for this generous congregation to help others who can't help themselves.

2023 "SOUPER BOWL OF CARING"

The Outreach Committee would like to thank everyone who participated in our 2023 Souper Bowl of Caring. We partnered with United Community Ministries to collect food and other items they needed to continue serving our community. There was a wide variety of items donated from their wish list which was valued around $1,000. This will benefit the Bassett Center Shelter for Families, the homeless shelter for individuals and the Soup Kitchen where they provide meals on a daily basis for those in need. We also collected monetary donations for use in keeping their mission going.

We could never have met our goal without the help of everyone. To all of you who purchased shopping carts for $200, our Sunday School Classes that contributed and everyone who donated - Thank You!

A special thank you to Barbara Batts for being our head cheer leader and organizer, Rod Buckner for being our voice in getting the message out, and Mike Williams for making sure that we had all those shopping carts to fill up (he and Beverly also delivered all the items to The Bassett Center). And we could not have done it without the help and support from Pastor Nathan, Pastor Savanna, Christian and Nancy so a big thank you to them.

Once again you have been the hands of Jesus in providing help to those in need in our own community. Thank you!

Patsy Smith, Outreach Chairperson
